Ex Tax: 0.00€

Designer Nina Jobs, adds yet another inspiring product to the successful Alumi screen series. A flexible system that offers a host of possibilities for creating space within a space: Alumi alcove. A new kind of aluminium corner connection has been developed simply to join the alcoves together to form a work room or meeting space. The system is designed to suit a variety of environments and interiors thanks to the different size and textile options. Alumi alcove is an exciting combination of good sound absorbency and simple design. "Today's workspaces with their open-plan areas calls for furniture with good longevity that is adaptable, so it can readily be transformed to meet new needs.
