Ex Tax: 0.00€

FLEXUS brings life into your furniture. And organization and information, too. This exhibition system has been particularly designed for the higher demands of libraries and is partition and presentation area at the same time. With FLEXUS you can realize such projects as free-standing advertising columns, covered pillars and large-size poster hoardings, as well as protective partitions, separation of the copy machine or a designated guidance system. The curved wall from perforated sheet metal communicates to both sides and can be installed without any tools.
